SUMMARY OF DUTIES: Provides a critical role in supporting recruiting and retention initiatives through a variety of administrative and marketing tasks. Key responsibilities include performing essential office duties such as filing, typing, copying, binding, and scanning documents to ensure efficient operations. The specialist will assist in the comprehensive planning, organization, and execution of recruiting events, including preparing materials, coordinating logistics, and engaging with attendees. A significant aspect of this role involves capturing photos and videos during events to enhance marketing efforts, as well as supporting the development and distribution of promotional materials to attract potential recruits. Additionally, the specialist will maintain organized records and databases related to recruiting activities and marketing campaigns, ensuring data accuracy and accessibility. They will also assist with the submission of medical packages for review by the Military Entrance Processing Station (MEPS) and the State Air Surgeon, ensuring compliance with medical requirements. Managing inventory levels of promotional supplies is also a crucial duty, requiring the specialist to anticipate needs and place timely orders. Effective communication skills are essential, as the specialist will interact with prospective recruits and their families, providing clear information about ANG opportunities. The ability to deliver engaging presentations to small groups and collaborate with team members to identify and implement improvements in recruiting strategies is vital to this position.
